Legends of the Grail is a collection of ancient Irish myths, and the missing or untold stories of Goddesses told in first person. I begin the book by thanking my husband John Patrick Sullivan, who not only encouraged me to find my inner Goddess, but who found and integrated his own divine feminine. So this is not just a book for women, but also a book for all people seeking love and wholeness. When each Goddess re-tells her story, she frees herself of centuries of misunderstanding, and you are invited to take a journey of self discovery.

In the book I offer practices that can allow us to untangle and free ourselves of stories that no longer serve us. We have the opportunity to align with the Grail, a symbol of our wholeness, our personal essence. The Goddesses remind us that we each have an unquenchable fire inside. The series is designed to help us restore and embrace the qualities of the feminine that have been lost in most cultures and religions. It is a book that invites wholeness and peace. A Story of Becoming. A young seed germinates in the forest before unfurling and finding her way through the rich dark soil of the earth. As she becomes a young seedling she stretches toward the sunlight, wondering what she will someday become. Nourished by the dewdrops, she grows in anticipation of the possibilities hidden within her. While still slight, some of her leaves and branches are eaten by animals. Despite the setback, she grows and matures until one day she discovers her purpose . . . she is an apple tree. She delights in being an apple tree; but over time she continues to encounter hardships, some of which are seemingly insurmountable. This is an enlightening tale of self-discovery and realization, brilliantly depicted through the life and lens of an apple seed as it journeys through the wondrous yet sometimes painful experience of existence. Coupled with soulful, hand drawn illustrations of great beauty and depth, it will captivate the heart and touch the soul of both children and adults alike.

Eala The Mother Swan. A young boy named Hugo goes in search of the Eala, the magical swan his grandmother has told him about. He finds her just as she is preparing to fly between the worlds. Circling back down, Hugo climbs on her back and she takes him between the crack of night and day so he can find the songs and colors of his heart and soul. Illustrated with colourful artwork from Paige Ozma Ashmore. She credits living near forests and castles as her main inspiration for her art. Steeped in fairy tales and older stories, she learned of bears that could talk, sleeping princesses in old castles and how the woods could hold deep mysteries inside of it. She was further inspired by her exposure to Russian lacquer painting and classic fairytale illustrations. "I believe that art sings the secret music of the soul and I paint images that awaken the old stories hidden in our bones." – Paige Ozma Ashmore

The Fairy Tree By Hannah May Hocking. This is a story about "Daisy" who discovers a magical tree in her garden and the tale behind it. She learns that no matter how lost or in the dark you are, there will always be a ray of light to guide you home. Hannah was inspired to write and illustrate this book after she became unwell, in and out of hospital, unable to leave the house so her garden became her sanctuary. Hannah imagined a gateway to another world through a hole in a tree at the bottom of her garden. A world where fairies wanted to help us. From that moment she named it the Fairy Tree and began to write the story in this book. She wanted people to know that even at the most scary and darkest times in one's life, if you take a breath and look around you, you will see there is always a tiny ray of light that will guide you to where you need to be.

Fairy Mysteries. The Fairy realm has two new detectives: a forest fairy, Lindee, and a unicorn, Max. The Detective Council gives them cases in the challenging Earth realm, so they disguise themselves as a human girl and a dog to investigate mysteries involving dragons, goblins, giants, trolls, and witches. Even though Lindee has an enchanted tree staff and Max a magical crystal horn, their powers wouldn't be as effective without the help of the elementals, elves, and cat giants, as well as a boy who becomes their human ally. With time, Lindee and Max become acclaimed detectives who specialize in what humans call "supernatural cases." This collection of seven mysteries was written for children and their parents. They were inspired by Celtic, Slavic, and Norse folk tales that teach us about the power of friendship, love, and kindness toward nature. The book is provided with old-style pencil drawings by Ivana Axman.

Spiritual Nutrition. When we eat, can we feed the soul as well as the body? Can a diet have an impact on spirituality? Spiritual Nutrition empowers readers to develop personal diets that are appropriate to their lifestyles and spiritual practices. Drawing on 14 years of clinical experience and research, Dr. Gabriel Cousens discusses nutritional issues that can help answer these questions, including raw vs. cooked food; high vs. low protein; the concepts of assimilation and fasting; alkaline/acid balance; attitudes about food; nutrients, energy, and structure building. In addition, Cousens shares his new dietary system of 'spiritual nutrition' that is based on the relationship that the color of the food has to the corresponding colors of the human chakra system, hence, the 'rainbow diet.' For true nourishment, he strongly promotes the connection of diet to meditation, fellowship, wisdom, and love. This edition is in two volumes.
